an anthology of poems with accompanying essays to help poetry lovers memorize some of the greatest verse ever written a collection of poems on different subjects and in different styles that lend themselves to memorization a collection of a hundred and some poems chosen specifically for memorization and for the particulary intense kind of silent reading with which a reader prepares to remember them a book of short four and five line poems for easy memorization it loosely covers the seasons of the year and images are paired with each poem to convey the meaning of the poem this is a book of short poems mostly five lines intended to read and enjoyed and perhaps even some to be memorized in forgotten times remembered glendon through the eyes of a boy growing up during the great depression of the 1930s narrates the love and determination of his scots mother to keep a roof over their heads of his older siblings seeking work when the country was mired in massive unemployment of the daily struggles of a family just staying afloat in spite of hardships this is a story of optimism of a time when there were front porches a time when a neighbors help was essential to life itself it is a warm look at a time when laughter oft times covered the grim reality of their futures this book describes an alternative way to teach creative writing one that replaces the silent writer taking criticism and advice from the teacher led workshop with an active writer who reflects upon and publically questions the work in progress in order to solicit response from a writers group as well as from the teacher both accompany the writer first as readers and fellow writers only later as critics because writers ask they listen and dialogues with responders become an inner dialogue that guides later writing and revision but when teachers accompany writers teaching cw becomes even more a negotiation of the personal because this teacher who is listener and mentor is also a model for some students of the writer and even the person they would like to become and still the authority who gives the grades teaching poetry writing is a comprehensive alternative to the full class workshop approach to poetry writing instruction
